Maine Field Guide to Invasive Aquatic Plants

Errata

p. i - Production partners; should read Lakes Environmental Association

p. i. – Production partners; should include Cumberland County Soil and Water Conservation District

p. iv - list of sources cited as being on page 140 is on page 136 p.24 – Look alikes: fragrant water lily should have a hyphen "water-lily"

p. 27 – 1.) US Range section; first sentence should read: Fanwort is native to South America 2.) Floating leaves in line drawing are incorrect; fanwort floating leaves are elongate and diamond-shaped p.28 – looks like there is an extra space between the Habitat and Description paragraphs p.32 – "Origin and US Range' not included for hybrid milfoil, also no range map shown p.43 – "Origin and US Range" should read "Origin and U.S. Range"

p. 50, 52, 56, 66, 70, 76, 98, 100 – pages with 2+ plants listed: some have genus spelled out for each species and other just 1st species has genus spelled out and rest genus is abbreviated p.56 – Potamogeton in first paragraph should be italicized p.66-69 – no range maps shown for bladderwort p.72 – US Range section, last sentence: P. pectinata starts a sentence so Proserpinaca should be spelled out p.76 – need a period after the last sentence in NOTE p.89 – under NOTE 'Nymphea' should read "Nymphaea" (missing a)

p. 94 – Range should read US Range

p.97 – Range should read US Range

p. 99 – Range should read US Range

p. 101 – Origin and Range should read US Range

p. 104 – Range should read US Range

p. 132 – Sources for page 21, European Frog-bit; scientific name should read (H. morsus-ranae) flower citation should read [Robin Scribailo]

p. 133 – Sources for page 35, Parrot feather; flowers citation should read [Kerry Dressler, Bio-Photo Services, Inc.]

p.134 – Sources – Page 59 lists "in situ" [Don Cameron] should read [Dennis Roberge] p.134 – Sources – Page 71 – need a closing bracket at end of paragraph

Native Plants Section – some use title "Value to …..Community" (p. 51,55,71,75,89,91,95,101,104) and others read "Value in…..Community" (p. 52,57,59,61,63,65,66,73,77,80,93,97,99)